

Company: Cohen Children's Medical Center of NY of Northwell Health
Job Title: Physician, Pediatric Infectious Diseases

Brief description of the position: The Division of Pediatric Infectious Diseases at Steven and Alexandra Cohen Children's Medical Center of Northwell Health and the Donald and Barbara Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell is recruiting a junior faculty member to join the division. The faculty member will participate in clinical care on the inpatient consultation service, outpatient infectious diseases and travel consultation services, and depending on interest the immunocompromised host consultation service. The faculty member will participate in fellow, resident, and medical student education. Experience/interest in antimicrobial stewardship, infection prevention, or care of the immunocompromised host is preferred. Experience or potential for success in research is preferred as there are opportunities and support for developing a clinical, epidemiologic, translational, or laboratory research through the Feinstein Institute for Medical Research. Qualified candidates must be board-certified or board-eligible in pediatric infectious diseases. Salary and level of appointment will be commensurate with experience. Please contact Lorry G Rubin MD, Director, Pediatric Infectious Diseases at lrubin4@northwell.edu.

Qualifications you are seeking: Board eligible or qualified in pediatric infectious diseases. Experience/interest in antimicrobial stewardship, infection prevention, or care of the immunocompromised host is preferred.

Experience or potential for success in research is preferred.

Phone: 718-470-3480

Fax: 718-470-0887

Address:

269-01 76th Avenue

New Hyde Park, NY 11040

Website: