

Job Post – Pediatric Infectious Diseases Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, University of California, San Francisco

Company: University of California, San Francisco

Salary range:

Job Title: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor

Organization Type: Non-Profit Organization

Job posting expiration date: 2025-07-01

Brief description of the position: The Division of Infectious Diseases and Global Health in the Department of Pediatrics at the University of California San Francisco (UCSF) is seeking to fill a full-time faculty position in the clinician-educator track at the rank of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor.

Our division provides consultative ambulatory and inpatient service at the two UCSF Benioff Children's Hospitals, in San Francisco and Oakland. UCSF was founded in 1849 but first established a free-standing children's hospital (183 beds) in San Francisco in 2015 that now serves as a referral center for all pediatric medical and surgical subspecialties in northern California. The children's hospital in Oakland (190 beds) has been providing care to children in the East Bay for over 100 years and formally joined UCSF in 2014. In 2022, UCSF Benioff Children's Hospitals were ranked in all 10 children's specialties in U.S. News and World Report.

We are currently looking to recruit a faculty member who has a passion for clinical excellence, teaching, and innovation and values equity and inclusion.

There are open roles for leadership in the programs of Antimicrobial Stewardship and the Hospital Epidemiology and Infection Prevention. The position will also include opportunities for care of immunocompromised children and to teach medical trainees of all levels, including fellows in pediatric infectious disease.

Qualifications you are seeking: Candidates must have an MD, DO, MD/PhD, or equivalent and be board certified or board eligible by the American Board of Pediatrics in the subspecialty of Pediatric Infectious Diseases.
